TELL ME MORE

Our Bodies are our life source.

Our transportation from social to emotional.

Every inch of our flesh makes up any soul that very well may be at play.

We are informed and inform through this birthday suit we wear.

How can we honor and accept what we have for what it is?

Our Bodies is a yearly endeavor to answer the question:

‘what does it mean to have a body’.

Our first iteration was produced by Letter of Marque Theater on Zoom in February of last year (2021).

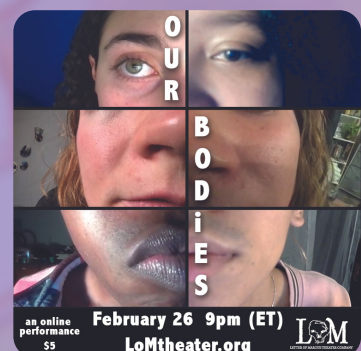

The piece is completely devised and meant to use a diverse palate of performance to express our ensemble's current experience in their ever-changing bodies.

This year we are honored to be hosted by WOW Cafe Theater (a women, non-binary, and trans theater collective). Each year the ensemble will devise a brand new work for this theatrical conversation. WOW Cafe's space supported and inspired us during this month long process.
